84.1% of babies are breastfed after birth. Though breastfeeding is a dyadic relationship, healthcare for moms and babies is quickly separated after birth, leading to poor breastfeeding care.

At 3 months old, 46.9% of babies are exclusively breastfed.

60% of moms stop breastfeeding before they planned, often due to manageable breastfeeding problems like pain and concerns about milk supply.

At 6 months old, 25.6% of babies are exclusively breastfed.

Our system is failing breastfeeding families. Supporting families every step of the way requires frequent & consistent:

- Education
- Counseling
- Problem solving
- Communication among all providers

1,000 Days leads the fight to ensure every family can meet their breastfeeding goals.
